

Last Call for Papers
59th New Zealand Association of Economists Annual Conference
To be held at Auckland University of Technology
27, 28, 29 June 2018 (Wed, Thurs, Fri)

The New Zealand Association of Economists is pleased to announce the Last Call for Papers for its 59th Annual Conference. Abstracts can be submitted here.

Please submit an abstract of not more than 250 words of your paper for either an oral presentation or the poster session. Full papers are not required at this stage, but for a paper to be considered eligible for the Statistics New Zealand, New Zealand Economic Policy, Seamus Hogan or the David Teece prizes, a full paper must be submitted by 11 June.

We encourage individuals to present their research in the poster session. Some research is particularly suited to the visual style of a poster presentation; it can also be suitable for work in progress, speculative research, and student research.

You are welcome to submit up to three papers. If we are only able to accept one of the submissions, we will contact you to ask which paper you prefer to present. This limit applies to the number of papers presented by any one person, and not to the number of papers on which he or she is a co-author.

Please note that presenters whose papers are accepted for an oral or poster presentation MUST REGISTER by 14 MAY to remain on the programme. Registration fee is non-refundable after this date.

Important dates:

21 Feb (Wed)	Abstract portal opens
26 March (Mon)	Conference registration opens
2 April (Mon)	Abstracts due
by 23 April (Mon)	Notification of acceptances
14 May (Mon)	Registration deadline for presenters
14 May (Mon)	Deadline for Early-bird registration
11 June (Mon)	Full papers due (entries for SNZ, NZEP, SH, DT prizes)

Call for Papers: Symposium on Wellbeing

On Tuesday 26 June, The Treasury is running a one day symposium on Wellbeing, co-hosted with the NZ Work Research Institute, AUT. The symposium will bring together a wide group of academics, policy makers, NGOs, and business leaders to discuss a range of wellbeing topics. These include the Treasury's Living Standards Framework, and in particular research that covers the wide spectrum of issues that fall within the realm of the Four Capitals – natural, social, human, and financial / physical capital. As well as the Capitals in general, contributions are invited on the following topics in particular: measurement of capital stocks; ownership and property rights beyond financial/physical capital; the application of weak and strong sustainability beyond natural capital.

Short abstracts of no more than 250 words should be submitted to cea@treasury.govt.nz by Monday 2nd April, and general queries about the symposium should be directed to workresearch@aut.ac.nz.

NZAE PhD Student Workshop, 2018

The New Zealand Association of Economists is pleased to invite you to the 2nd PhD Student Workshop in Economics. At this workshop, PhD students have the opportunity to present their work in progress in a friendly environment and receive feedback from academics and peers. In doing so, students will meet members of the broader New Zealand Economics community. As well as networking with other PhD students, there may also be the opportunity to meet senior Economists and discuss career options with a postgraduate degree.

Students will not be able to present the same workshop paper in an oral session at the NZAE conference which takes place later that week. However, they will be strongly encouraged to present their workshop paper concurrently as a poster in the main conference – and present a revised version in an oral session in subsequent years.

For whom: PhD students in Economics who are either New Zealand-based or are New Zealand students studying abroad. Preference will be given to PhD students in the first two years of their studies who register for the NZAE conference.

When: 26 June, 2018 (Tuesday)

Where: PwC, Auckland

How to submit: Please email an abstract of not more than 250 words to Andrea Menclova (andrea.menclova@canterbury.ac.nz) by 2 April (Monday). Abstracts will be reviewed by a programme committee and authors notified of acceptances by 23 April (Monday). Presenters will have the option of submitting full papers up to a week prior to the workshop (i.e., by 18 June); all papers received will be circulated to participants, enabling a greater range of comments to the presenter at the workshop.

Registration for the workshop is free.
